

Join us to DEFEAT the EATS Act

At stake in this year's Farm Bill is the right of all U.S. citizens to maintain local control over our food and farms.

The Ending Agricultural Trade Suppression (EATS) Act, (S.2019 and H.R.4417), introduced by Rep. Ashley Hinson (R-IA) and Sen. Roger Marshall (R-KS), aims to strip state and local governments of their ability to make agricultural policies within their own borders; policies that create market opportunity and protect communities' health and wellbeing.

Defeat EATS to protect family farmers and ranchers

The EATS Act would prevent state and local governments from establishing food production and distribution safeguards that provide small farmers with critical market opportunities that keep them farming.

By eliminating these opportunities, the act will accelerate market concentration in the food and agriculture industries, giving multinational corporations the win over American family farmers and ranchers.
